

Marque Summer Clerkship Twitterfest 2011

Day Five – Who's your hero?

There was a slightly melancholy air on Day Five, as some of our most loyal and dedicated tweeps made their last bids and in many cases reached for pathos to get them across the line. We felt for you!

The big news of the day was the announcement of our GetUp! clerkship, which we're hugely excited about and which has improved everyone's odds by 100%. So that has to be good.

SpigelmanCJ finally outed himself, but it was generally agreed that he'd played an excellent game and so it's no surprise he finds himself in the list of today's winners. He produced many of the week's best tweets.

Our Day Five choices may seem a bit random, in some cases you just happen to share one of our heroes. Like Snooki, for example.

To everyone who tweeted – thank you for seeing the lighter side of the summer clerkship horror and having some fun with us. If you love Marque as much as you keep professing, keep in touch and you never know. Life rarely runs in straight lines.
